

The Trevor Romain Foundation

First organized in 2005, the Trevor Romain Foundation is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to instill hope in military families by providing resources to help meet the emotional demands they experience when challenged by adversity.

Since its inception, the Trevor Romain Foundation has endeavored to meet this goal. The Foundation has produced a series of comfort kits customized to meet military children's specific needs. Developed with the USO, the With You All the Way! Dealing with Deployment Kit contains resources to support children and their families who have a family member deployed. The Grief Comfort Kit is a set of resources to help children cope with the loss of a family member. Thousands of these kits have been given to the children all over the world.

Whether a child has lost a family member, has a family member deployed, or has an injured family member, these comfort kits are designed with resources that are both educational and comforting. These kits are an integral part of the Trevor Romain Foundation's goal of providing support and comfort to children going through difficult times.

Trevor Romain has continued to log countless miles traveling the world to instill and nurture hope in children. He has been privileged to work with the United Service Organization (USO), the United Nations (UN), and the Department of Defense Elementary and Secondary Schools— (DDESS) touching the lives of tens of thousands of school children each year.

It has been a busy time for the Trevor Romain Foundation:

- Trevor had the honor and privilege of speaking at the 2010 USO Gala.
- In 2010, the USO & the Trevor Romain Foundation launched the With You All the Way! Dealing with Deployment Kit in Washington, DC.
- Trevor is currently on a USO Tour and will visit 25 bases and reach over 85,000 children, parents and teachers. Trevor will not only speak about dealing with deployment, but will also cover issues kids face on a daily basis; from bullies and cliques, to homework, fear, and exercise.
- We are developing a new resource: Taking Care of You! Support For Kids of Injured Heroes. This comfort kit will help children cope with the challenges of reintegration and their loved one's physical and emotional injuries.
- We are honored to have our Grief Comfort Kit made available to any military personnel by the U.S. Department of Defense through Military OneSource to comfort families of fallen warriors fighting in Iraq, Afghanistan and other conflict areas around the world.
- The USO has adopted the Grief Comfort Kit, to be provided to children at Dover Air Force Base where the bodies of fallen US troops are met by their grieving families.
